

WINES AND SPIRITS

with grain whiskies (corn, wheat, non-malted barley) to create a smooth, thoroughly pleasant tasting Scotch. A normal blend will be about 30% malt whisky and 70% grain whisky.

But Single Malt whiskies are truly singular and unique, from raw materials, to water, to the production techniques and the topography and climate surrounding the distillery. The Macallan is the only Single Malt which ages 100% of its production exclusively in sherry oak casks. These expensive casks produce a Single Malt which is full-flavored, smooth and uniquely embellished with hints of sherry. The nose reflects a hint of almonds, pears and heather. The Macallan 12-year-old is particularly well-rounded and full of flavor.
