Henri Wintermans celebrates 100 years

To commemorate Henri Wintermans 100th anniversary as a cigar maker, the company has renamed its well-known range of cigars to Henri Wintermans Founder's Blend.

In addition to the name change, the current Henri Wintermans logo has been redesigned with a more modern lion. The traditional red packaging has also been updated to give it a more contemporary look while keeping the heritage in mind.

Nat Sherman presents three new arrivals

U.S. cigar manufacturer Nat Sherman is launching three new products at the TFWA Singapore show this May.

The newest addition to the Broadway selection is the Marquis 5-pack, containing five cigars finished in glass tubes. These hand-made cigars have a ring gauge measuring 48 and they are 7 inches in length.

Another new product, the Metropolitan Sampler, is being introduced for the first time to the duty free market. The ring gauge is 50 by 7 inches in length. The sampler contains two of the acclaimed metropolitan cigars in a natural wrapper, as well as two Maduro counterparts.

The Bijou cigar, on the other hand, is perfect for a short smoke, measuring just 28 in ring gauge and 4.5 inches in length.
